

Janet Rettig Emanuel, PhD

Partnerships ADC invited Janet to serve on the Board of Directors in 2019. In 2020 she was elected Secretary and since 2021 serves as President. A Research Scientist by training, Janet attended UConn as an undergraduate and received her PhD from Yale in Human Genetics.

After 25 years of research and teaching at Yale and Quinnipiac Universities she took on being Associate Director of Public Affairs at Yale as the voice of science medicine and engineering.

Over the past 25+ years, her consulting firm, Translational Technologies, been engaged by startup and established businesses to implement and refine structures for effective operation in areas as diverse as DNA biotechnology, public access broadcasting, and leadership training.

For fun, Janet has owned and operated an antiques store, enjoyed gardening, and been an accomplished seamstress and photographer. A senior herself, she is acutely interested in programs that maintain and enrich the quality of life for the elderly.
